

Terms and Conditions for Face-to-Face and Online Courses

Introduction

The Education and Training Foundation (ETF) offers subsidised courses to practitioners and managers who are (unless stated otherwise) employed by ESFA-funded provider organisations.

As part of its provision, the ETF is committed to fulfilling all courses on the date and times advertised, and therefore advises that all course bookings are made as far in advance of the course start date as possible.

By accepting these terms and conditions, you are entering into a contractual relationship with the Education and Training Foundation, 157-197 Buckingham Palace Road, London, SW1W 9SP.

Payment

Payment is due within 30 days of the invoice being issued. In the event of late payment, we reserve the right to decline future course bookings from the same institution. We also reserve the right to charge interest on outstanding invoices at the rate of 2% per calendar month.

Authorisation

By submitting a booking to us, by whatever means, you are acknowledging that you have received authorisation for this expenditure from the relevant person at your institution. Therefore, we reserve the right to pursue payment for your booking 7 days after it was completed.

Subsidies

Where stated in the course descriptions, our subsidised prices are available exclusively for employees of ESFA-funded organisations. By selecting this option during booking, the customer is confirming that they work for an ESFA-funded organisation. The ETF reserves the right to periodically spot check and validate this confirmation and to pursue customers for additional payments if this confirmation is proved to be invalid.

Booking cancellations, transfers and refunds

All cancellations and transfers for open courses must be requested in writing to bookingsupport@etfoundation.co.uk or by phone to 0800 0 831 830.

If a customer cancels a booked place on an open course within seven working days of placing their booking (see "cooling off period", below), he/she is entitled to a full refund. After this period, as long as the cancellation is more than two weeks before the start date of the course, he/she is entitled to a full refund for the same amount they paid for the place.

However, if a customer cancels after the cooling off period, and less than two weeks before the start date of the course, he/she is not entitled to a refund. He/she can nominate a colleague from the same institution to take his/her place under the same original booking without a further payment.

A customer can request a transfer to an alternative, identical instance of an open course. He/she will be offered a transfer if there is space available on an alternative instance. If there is no space available, the customer can retain their original booking, or cancel.

If the customer requests the transfer within seven working days of placing their booking (see “cooling off period”, below), he/she is entitled to a transfer at no extra cost. After this period, as long as the transfer is more than two weeks before the start date of the course, he/she will still be entitled to a transfer at no extra cost.

However, if a customer requests a transfer after the cooling off period, and less than two weeks before the start date of the course, we reserve the right to charge a transfer fee of 25% of the original course price.

Course cancellation

In circumstances where the ETF (and its partners) are required to cancel a particular open course instance, the customer will be notified at least 7 days before the running date. In the event that courses may be cancelled in an emergency or due to unforeseen disruption, customers will be notified at the earliest opportunity.

We recommend that customers await their joining instructions typically sent 2 weeks before the event, before booking any travel.

The customer will be offered the option to transfer (if available) to an alternative instance at no additional charge. If there is no available alternative, or the customer chooses not to transfer their booking, the ETF will refund their payment, or cancel any unpaid invoice.

If the customer chooses to transfer to an alternative instance, ETF will transfer their booking and adjust against the record of their payment/invoice.

Course content

The ETF’s courses are constantly updated and improved and we reserve the right to alter any of the courses’ content without prior notice. The ETF will make every effort to provide the services and courses as specified, but, if for any reason beyond its control it fails to do so, neither the ETF nor its trustees or employees shall be liable for any resulting loss or damage.

Certificate of attendance and Impact Surveys

The Foundation will issue Certificates of attendance and send requests for Impact Survey feedback to the ‘registered’ delegates booked onto the course once all sessions of the course have been attended. If a delegate misses any session, they will be required to complete the missed sessions before certification. Certificates cannot be issued only for partial attendance.

Cooling off period

From the date of making your booking with us, whether online or by phone, you have 7 days during which you can make a cancellation or transfer without charge. Thereafter your booking will be bound by our terms and conditions as detailed above.

Free Places

The Education and Training Foundation is committed to ensuring that our courses are accessible. Our free place offer aims to ensure greater diversity on our courses and we will be monitoring uptake to assess its impact. If you have requested a free place, you must fit one of the following criteria:

- People working in organisations within the 12 opportunity areas (which are Blackpool, Bradford, Derby, Doncaster, Fenland and East Cambridgeshire, Hastings, Ipswich, Norwich, Oldham, Scarborough, Stoke, West Somerset.)
- People working in organisations with an annual turnover of less than £500,000
- Disabled people and people from BAME communities – both of whom are under represented on our courses.

Our evaluation team will be contacting a sample of people who have taken up our free place offer to assess its impact.

By accepting a free place, you are confirming that you are willing to be contacted.

Data protection and security

The Education and Training Foundation is committed to ensuring that your privacy is protected. Should we ask you to provide information by which you can be identified when using this website, it will only be used in accordance with our privacy statement. Our privacy statement, which details the ways in which we process, hold and share data about customers, is available at <http://www.et-foundation.co.uk/terms-of-usage/privacy-cookie-policy/>.

Where we do share information with third-parties to deliver services such as training courses, we require that all such third-parties treat your personal information as confidential and comply with all applicable UK Data Protection and Consumer Legislation.

The ETF also recognises the importance of customer data, and its booking portal complies with industry-standard security levels. Customers should take all reasonable steps to ensure that login details are secure and passwords are protected. Customers should take extra precaution when accessing their account in a public space or on a shared computer to protect personal information.